American Scholar's celebration of the Lunar New Year was a rousing success, full of fun for all students and staff members. We began our celebration of this special holiday with a Student Government organized Lunar New Year party on Friday, January 27th. This event included activities such as dumpling making and karaoke, which allowed our students to share their talents for performance with their peers. On Saturday the 28th, the students and staff of American Scholar traveled to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania for our annual Lunar New Year Luncheon at Jimmy Wan's Restaurant and Lounge, an Asian Specialty restaurant. This special occasion permitted our students and staff to share this most important holiday, along with a variety of holiday traditions, with one another. We at ASG would like to wish you all a Happy Lunar New Year!
